Roofing Contractor Solutions Inc to License Ashlar's Graphite™ Custom

September 2, 2008 Austin, TX. Ashlar Incorporated announced this week an agreement with Roofing Contractor Solutions Inc. to license Ashlar-Vellum Graphite Custom software. RCSI will use Graphite Custom as the basis on which to develop a new estimating application to assist the building industry.

Bill Sullivan, CEO of RCSI, commented that, "We examined a variety of CAD platforms on which to build our software and decided that Graphite's ease of use, flexibility and power were unmatched by any other."

Ashlar-Vellum President, Robert Bou, had this to say, "RCSI's needs match exactly what we have to offer: a powerful CAD package with an easy user interface that is highly customizable, allowing them to create a small foot-print application that directly addresses their customer's needs."
